EBT Is Set To Deliver A Season of Mystery, Murder and Merrymaking!

East Bank Theatre opens its 2007-08 season with Everyday Heroes, a dramatic story about freedom -- and the price at which it comes.

Then, the musical adaptation of The Story of the Velveteen Rabbit allows us a

The stage is set for EBT's best season ever!!

Christmas memory -- one where all our childlike dreams and wishes came true, no matter how fantastic.

But don't get too cozy! Terror is just around the corner with The Haunting of Hill House, a chill-a-minute tale of horror and panic.

If dark, clever, and a bit on the Machiavellian side is your pleasure, you'll love the Bard's comic/tragic Measure for Measure.

Finally, the Little Sisters of Hoboken are raucous, rowdy, and ready to roll out the good-time carpet for their recently reposed comrades in Nunsense.

Everyday Heroes by Laurie Brooks

Directed by Mary Joris

September 21, 22, 23, 28, 29, 30

When a heroic act places teenager Win Lawrence in the limelight, he and his brother, Kurt, stand to lose more than just their fire ravaged home - the media hubbub surrounding the tragedy threatens to unearth a secret so terrible, it could cost them their lives.

The Story of the Velveteen Rabbit

A Musical by Marjery Williams. Adapted for stage by Anita Larsen. Music & Lyrics by Bill Francoeur

Directed by Reagan Cassanova

November 30, December 1, 2, 7, 8, 9

When a stuffed rabbit yearns to be more than it is - a shabby, mismatched, worn out toy - something magical happens. A classic, musical tale of the desire to be truly loved.

The Haunting of Hill House

by F. Andrew Leslie

Directed by Richard Folmer

January 18, 19, 20, 25, 26, 27

Cut off from the outside world by its remote location, evil forces are at work at Hill House, a brooding, isolated mansion. For three unwitting strangers, the eerie structure soon becomes a chamber of unspeakable horrors.

Measure for Measure

by William Shakespeare

Directed by Heather Hooper

March 7, 8, 9, 14, 15, 16

Dubbed one of Shakespeare's "Problem Plays," - both comedic and tragic. The fate of Claudio seems certain when the Duke leaves Vienna in the seemingly moral hands of Angelo. But soon the nefarious Angelo is taught a lesson in moderation and modesty when the Duke reveals a Pandora's Box of secrets.

Nunsense A Musical by Dan Goggin

Directed by Richard Folmer

Choreographed by Anna Maria Sparke Keele

May 2, 3, 4, 9 10, 11

Accidents will happen! When the convent cook unintentionally poisons the Little Sisters of Hoboken, the remaining dis-Order-ly angels throw a riotous revue to earn enough money to rescue their dearly departed sisters from the freezer and bury them!
